CrawfordEllenbogen LLC Ushers in 65th Year with New Partner

Pittsburgh, January 2006 – Victor Dozzi, CPA celebrates his ninth year with CrawfordEllenbogen LLC, by being named a Partner of the accounting firm.

“Vic’s depth of experience and strategic approach to identifying and resolving issues is a tremendous asset to us and to our clients,” said Joan Ellenbogen, Managing Partner, when she announced Dozzi’s appointment in her family’s third-generation business.

Dozzi is also active in community affairs. He currently serves as Treasurer of the Greater Pittsburgh Arts Council (GPAC), serving the previous two years on the board of the Pro Arts. He is a frequent lecturer for national non-profit organizations about bookkeeping and business start-up issues. Dozzi teaches at Carlow University and has lectured on accounting at the University of Pittsburgh School of Law.

Dozzi earned his bachelor’s degree in mathematics and accounting, magna cum laude, from Carlow University and is currently enrolled in the Masters in Taxation program at Duquesne University. He is a member of both the American and Pennsylvania Institutes of Certified Public Accountants.

For 65 years CE has provided integrated advisory, accounting and tax services for closely held businesses, the owners and their families, and for individuals. This has contributed significantly and efficiently to clients’ cash flow and wealth accumulation.

CE is located in Edgewood.
